

T.K. Tidbits

This Past Week:

As you all know, this past week got cut short with the snow day and the late start. During this week, we met Ms. L. We came up with 32 words that start with the letter L. We also learned how to summarize stories this week. We summarized multiple stories together as a class.

Coming Up:

Next week, we will meet our new Letter Person. Since we did not get to our handwriting book due to the shortened week or to our new math concept, we will do letter R in handwriting, and in math we will start working on finding missing numbers (ex. 1, , 3: what number goes in the blank).

Sharing Next Week:

If students didn't bring their favorite book for sharing this week, they should bring one next week. If they did remember their favorite book this week, they can have free choice for sharing next week.

Check out our class website at:

<http://rvraptors.com/beckert/>

